

Terms of Use (Acceptable Use Policy)

At CSN Technologies, we are committed to doing the right thing, and doing the right thing is at the very heart of our business operations. Our employees are expected to respect the rights of others, and we seek to work only with suppliers and partners equally committed to doing the right thing and who maintain high ethical standards.

This Acceptable Use Policy applies to all persons and entities (collectively, "customers") using the products and services of CSN Technologies (Pty) Ltd.

The intent of this policy is to protect the security, integrity, reliability, and privacy of both the CSN Technologies network and the products and services we offer to our customers.

CSN Technologies reserves the right to modify this policy at any time, effective immediately upon posting of the modification.

Your use of CSN Technologies' products and services constitutes your acceptance of this Acceptable Use Policy in effect at the time of your use.

Violations of this Policy and the Acceptable Use Policies of other providers can severely affect the provision of various services. Please report violations of this policy to info@csntechnologies.co.za

We can't control the data passing over our network, you are solely responsible for any and all acts and omissions that occur during or relating to your use of the service, and you agree not to engage in any unacceptable use of the service.

You undertake to use CSN Technologies' services in accordance with any restrictions imposed under the following South African legislations:

- Electronic Communications and Transactions Act 25 of 2002
- Electronic Communications Act 36 of 2005
- Films and Publications Act 65 of 1996 (as amended)
- Regulation of Interception and Provision of Communication-related Information Act 70 of 2003

This policy forms part of CSN Technologies' standard terms and conditions of service.
